The Night of the Procession.

This evening, the great Union procession will take place. This will be the last grand demonstration in this county previous to the election on Tuesday. Every Union house should be illuminated. Flags and lanterns should be hung out so as to add to the gaiety of the scene, and to intensify the beauty of the celebration.

Lanterns! Lanterns!

The parti-colored lanterns representing the Red, White, and Blue of the National escutcheon, are to be had in the city in abundance, and at reasonable prices. No Unionist should permit the great occasion of to-night to pass without helping to swell the grand chorus of Union voices and Union hearts. Light up your lanterns, and let those who walk be able to read who you are for.

Transparencies.

To-night, those who can find it convenient, will do well to put transparencies containing hearty expressions of devotion to the Union and the Government, to the Constitution and the Laws. We hope to see a generous exhibition of this kind. Let the word go out to the country that Allegheny County takes this method of announcing her intention of giving a ten-thousand majority for LINCOLN and JOHNSON on Tuesday.

Show Your Colors.

Let every Union family in and around Pittsburgh and Allegheny hang out the Stars and Stripes to-day; and to night, let your light so shine that Copperheads may see how things are going, and in the light of noble example they may fall in with the current and vote a decent ticket next Tuesday.

Flags! Flags! Flags!

Union flags should fly at every window of every Union house in Pittsburgh and Allegheny this afternoon and evening. Let no person be afraid to show the Stars and Stripes at a crisis like this. If Copperheads feel dull and heavy and a little malicious under the exhibition, they can relieve themselves by uniting in the celebration—hanging out their flags, Union flags, and saluting them with hearty cheers for the Union and the Government.

Man Shot by a Patrol in Buffalo.

The Buffalo Express of yesterday says that four companies of the 74th Regt. N. Y. S. M performed patrol duty on Tuesday night, in that city, and that during the night a party of Irishmen were challenged by one of the patrol, and failing to respond at the same time running away, the patrol fired his piece and brought down one of the party, a Patrick Gannon, who said he had been to a ball. Whether this was the truth or not, it was pretty certain that ball had been to him. They are doing things right in Buffalo.

Donahue of Albany.

Donahue, who is implicated in the Soldiers' Voting fraud, belongs in Albany, and the Journal says that he was one of the leaders in the fraud of the Young Men's Association election last year, of which our readers will remember some of the facts. He, it appears, boasts of the facility he had acquired in stuffing ballot-boxes.

FLAGS! LANTERNS! BADGES! MEDALS!—The most heterogeneous mixture of political emblems we have ever seen are at Pittock's. Mr. P. has fortified himself against any demand which the occasion may bring upon him by laying in an almost inexhaustable stock of the very articles needed in the procession to-night. We recommend Pittock as the very man to serve up what is wanted for the time. He is unquestionably "the man for the hour."

LET no entranchised loyal citizen of Pennsylvania allow himself to be out of the reach of the ballot-box on Tuesday next. Hurry home, be on hand, and help the cause.

IN some of the principal interior cities of New York, the merchants will close their stores on election day. What say the Pittsburgh merchants?

A vote lost may be a cause lost. Make up your mind, friends, now, that come sunshine or come storm, come health or come sickness, you will be at the polls and vote on Tuesday next.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—We are indebted to Mr. Pittock for this month's Atlantic, better late than never. It is full of good things.

Result of Democratic Teachings in Clearfield County.

Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.
BROOKVILLE, Nov. 1, 1864.

On last Sunday, Cyrus Butler, of this place, was killed while attempting to arrest a deserter in Clearfield county. Mr. Butler was at one time a Captain in the 11th Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, and a Lieutenant Colonel in a regiment during the emergency. He was wounded at Chancellorsville, and was a brave and fearless officer, and a man intensely attached to the Government. The deserter was wounded by Butler after he had shot him, and went to Clearfield where he had his wound dressed, stating what he had done, but no effort was made to arrest him.

For this dastardly act the Democratic party is responsible, as it is the result of the immense mass meeting which was held in Clearfield in August to take measures to resist the draft. They have taught their men to resist it, and so safe is the county considered as an asylum for the lawless, that it is full of deserters from other parts of the State. The county is full of arms, and the K. G. C's are fully organized, and it will require a strong military force to enforce the draft here. So much for a Peace Democracy. BROOKVILLE.

WAR IN CLEARFIELD.—The threats which have been made to resist the draft in Clearfield county culminated, on Monday, in the shooting of Col. Butler, Deputy Provost Marshal, while in the discharge of his duty in the arrest of a deserter. A great many people in that region, known as Copperheads, are armed and equipped and organized in squads to resist every effort of the authorities to gather in the drafted men. Col. Butler was one of the most exemplary and unassuming men in that county, and retaliation for his death will be visited upon those who caused it in the most desperate manner, as his friends have vowed to take the law into their own hands and hang every one of them. This move is not advisable, as the military authorities of the State sent seven hundred troops to Brookfield yesterday, who will immediately arrest all who have in any manner been concerned in this outrage, and at the same time pick up all those who have been drafted and refused to report themselves.—Erie Dispatch.

Late News Items.

Tuesday morning about four o'clock, a lot of McNeil's robbers and guerrillas, pounced upon a company of New York cavalry, stationed at Green Spring run, West Va., fifteen miles the other side of Cumberland, and killed three of the company, wounded several, and took the balance prisoners. No harm was done to the road.

We stated the other day, on the authority of the English papers, that the capture of Nankin ended the Chinese rebellion, which has been raging for the past fifteen years. Later advices state, however, that the rebels are endeavoring to collect their forces in the provinces of Nyang-w[illegible] ad of Kiang-si. One of their armies, c[illegible]manded by the Lieutenant of Chau-Omang, [illegible]ed a numerous division of the imperial arm[illegible] in a pitched battle on the third of August.

[illegible] steamer is running on the Connecticut ri[illegible]r, owned by parties in East Windsor, Ct., which is only thirty-three feet long. The most curious feature is the little engine and the water wheel, the latter located at the stern, on a principle somewhat original, since by its position the paddles strike the water in an oblique line, which, while it prevents any lifting motion of the light little craft, is well calculated to give it speed. The distance by river to Hartford is about seventeen miles; yet the little craft goes the whole distance in forty to fifty minutes, and the fuel consumed is but one good sized old fence-rail!

The Convention of War Democrats.

Declaration of Principles.

Chicago Platform Thrown Overboard.

Sustain the Government—No Compromise With Traitors.

The Convention of War Democrats, held in New York City on Tuesday, was permanently organized by the election of James Worrall, of Pennsylvania, as Chairman. One gentleman from each of the delegations from twenty-five loyal States acted as Vice Presidents. The large hall of the Cooper Institute was well filled by the friends of the movement, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

After a brief and patriotic address by President Worrall, in which he reviewed the principles of the Democracy of other days and those of the opposition of the present day, the following resolutions were reported and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, A crisis has arrived in the history of our country threatening, by armed rebellion, destruction to the national life, and persons under the name and prestige of democratic character, misled by the delusions of party, are acting from treasonable motives, and are aiding the rebellion and injuring the national prospects; all true Democrats are required by their loyalty to the Government, which our fathers in their wisdom founded, and by their labors and sacrifices sustained, to express openly, and by some authoritative enunciation, their entire devotion to the cause of the country, and their views on the questions of policy involved by its present condition, and to lay before the world the real principles of Democracy; it is, therefore,

Resolved, That we Democrats will sustain the war; that as we accepted with entire unanimity the guage of battle when forced upon us by the rebels at Fort Sumter, we will not shrink from the consequent sufferings and privations, but scorning the suggestions of craven submission, will boldly carry it through in spite of error and reverse till victory shall crown our efforts and peace, founded upon the Union, shall be restored.

That, although in the commencement inexperience may have led to error and mistake, we believe that the war is at the present time pressed with commendable energy and with remarkable success, and should deprecate any change in public affairs that might result in removing from the command of the army Generals Grant, Sherman, and Sheridan, and from the navy Farragut, Porter, and Winslow.

That we do not admit the war under these leaders to have been in any respect a failure, and point to the fact that the great portion of the rebellious States has been recovered, and all but a few vessels of the rebel navy have been destroyed, to prove that the gratitude of the nation is due to the noble soldiers and sailors whose uncomplaining patriotism and invincible courage have brought us to the verge of final victory.

That it is neither good policy nor compatible with the dignity of our government to request a cessation of hostilities, nor offer terms of settlement until the rebels shall have expressed a desire, which they have hitherto invariably and in the most insulting language declaimed, to return to the Union. But that if such desire be properly expressed, with guarantees of good faith, that the greatest liberality both towards their persons and property should be extended to them, allowance being made for the delusions and deceptions that have been practiced upon them.

That while we admit occasional acts of weakness in the administration, we accept the consequent duty of supporting and strengthening it without regard to the party affinities of the incumbent, and utterly repudiating the doctrine of secession, we favor the employment of the most vigorous measures for the restoration of the Union, with its obligations unaltered and its integrity unimpaired.

Believing the war in defence of our laws and liberties to be eminently just, we see no reason for suspending it until its object shall have been accomplished, knowing that more delay strengthens the rebels, by enabling them to enforce their conscription, to complete the fortifications, fill their storehouses and replenish their armories, and we consider that all legitimate means of honorable warfare may be employed in its aid.

As no nation has ever been able to conduct a war approaching in magnitude the conflict that desolates our country without financial pressure, we recognize and submit to the necessity; being convinced that the boundless resources of a restored Union will be amply sufficient to meet our liabilities, and that the salvation of our country is well worth all its costs.

We therefore urge our fellow Democrats to sustain the Government as it exists, and to support in the coming elections the candidates that express these views.

The following National Committee was then chosen:

Maine, C. B. Stetson, Wm. P. Taylor; New Hampshire, Zadock Porter, Jacob Howe; Vermont, Chas. Reid, Roderick Richardson; Rhode Island, D. C. Pell, A. O. H. Kien; Connecticut, John J. Waite, George W. A SUBSTITUTE SWALLOWS $400.—Charles Wright, a Canadian who became substitute for a drafted man in Baltimore, after eating dinner at the Provost Marshal's office, was asked to hand over his money, which would be returned to him on arriving at the rendezvous to which he was ordered. He replied that he had but $50 which, from knowledge in his possession, the Provost Marshal did not believe. After a thorough search of the person of Wright, it was decided that he must have swallowed some money, and an emetic was procured and administered to him, but without effect. A second was then given, and, in a short time, Wright was seized with vomiting and threw up a hundred dollar note, on the Chesapeake Bank of that city. In a brief space he threw up a second, a third and a fourth. He then confessed that he had swallowed each note separately while eating his dinner, by placing them in a piece of tomato.

A REPORT CONTRADICTED.—It has recently been published that Secretary Fessenden intended to recommend in his financial report to Congress the reception of legal tenders in payment of customs. It is not at all probable he has informed any one of his plans and purposes, or even given an intimation which would justify such a conclusion. That statement, like others of a kindred speculative character, are scarcely worthy of formal contradiction.

NEW FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.—Specimens of a new style of fractional currency, to supercede that now in circulation, have been prepared at the Treasury Department, and every effort will be made to guard against counterfeiting, which prevails to a large extent with the present issue. It is probable that the new currency will be of different sizes—graduated according to the several denominations.

Rebel Cruelty.

Horrors of the Andersonville Prison.

Three Thousand Deaths in August.

The Palmetto Herald, of Port Royal, publishes the following narrative:

Deeming that a statement in regard to the treatment of our prisoners by the rebels may not prove uninteresting to your readers, and knowing that very many labor under the impression that their usage is much better than it really is, I propose to give a few facts in regard to it as they have passed under my own observation.

About one hundred of us were taken prisoners on the 20th of last August, while making a raid on the Atlanta and Macon Railroad. The forces were commanded by General Kilpatrick.

At noon on the 23d we arrived at Andersonville, Georgia. The station is about one-fourth of a mile from the prison; when we were about midway between the station and prison, we were drawn up in line, and again searched, and plundered of the remaining little we had; this time we were stripped of our clothes, even to our drawers, and minutely searched. The proceeds of this search consisted of a few diaries and photographs, invaluable to the soldier but of no earthly use to the rebels. When that ordeal was passed, we were marched into prison, without a blanket to protect us from the weather.

Camp Sumter, the name of the prison, contains about twenty-five acres of ground, four acres of which is a filthy marsh. The camp is divided into two unequal parts by a small stream that flows through from the northwest to the southeast, and is enclosed by a stockade of hewed logs set in the ground on end, twenty feet high. The sentries stand on a platform raised to near the top of the stockade from whence they can overlook the camp. Twenty feet from the inside of the stockade, all around, are posts four feet high, with slats nailed across from one to another; that is called the "dead line," and very appropriately, too, for any prisoner that dares cross that line is immediately shot dead.

In Camp Sumter the ingenuity of man was certainly taxed to the highest pitch in devising means to shelter him from the scorching rays of the sun; some would put up blankets for a shelter tent, others would sow together old drawers and shirts and make a shelter of them; others again would build a sort of mud houses. Designs were plenty, and that "necessity is the mother of invention" was vividly illustrated here. A great many poor unfortunate fellows had no blankets and no shelter whatever; they had to be on the ground under the terrible heat of the sun and the chilly dews of the night; in wet and dry alike I have seen hundreds lie thus, unable to crawl, covered with flies and maggots crawling all over them, face, hands and feet swollen and blistered with heat, and lie thus for days before death would relieve them from their sufferings. Oh! the miseries of that camp no pen can describe; a man schooled in crimes the most atrocious could not look without a shudder upon the cruelties of that place.

Death fast released the poor victims from their suffering. In the month of August three thousand one hundred and twenty died, averaging a hundred per day. They generally died from scurvy, chronic diarrhea and starvation. Some few were admitted into the hospital and got better, but they were generally very careful not to admit any person unless they were confident he would die about the next day. If a person wished to see sickening sights all he had to do was to take up his position near the gate early in the morning. Day could scarcely dawn before he could descry men approaching him with litters made of blankets tied to poles, carrying out the corpses of those who had died during the night; in a couple of hours there would be fifty or sixty dead bodies strewn around; the gates would presently open, when they would be carried out and pitched into wagons, driven off and tumbled into the earth, like so many dead hogs. Here, also, to the gate, the sick had to come for their medicines; they would be conveyed in different ways; some would be carried on the backs of their comrades, others in blankets; some would die while being carried to the surgeon. Some were mere skeletons from starvation and chronic diarrhœa, others were black and the flesh dropping off of them from scurvy. When they received their medicine, which was very insufficient, and often none at all, they were transported back the same way they came. This was repeated every morning, and the process alone was sufficient to kill a sick person.

The rations consisted of about four ounces of very coarse corn bread, one-half pint of stock peas—a kind I never saw North; if I went to look for them, it would be in the woods. There were generally more bugs than peas. Sometimes in lieu of peas we received five tablespoonfuls of rice, one-half ounce of bacon, four ounces of fresh beef, and three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt. About three times a month we had molasses issued to us. To cook our rations we drew four pounds of wood to each man, to last three days—about enough to cook one meal with. We often had to eat our beef raw, and sometimes our peas. There was no excuse for not giving us plenty of wood, for there were hundreds of acres of good pine wood in the immediate vicinity of our prison. We had no soap issued to us; we had to wash ourselves and clothes without it.

A good number of the men made tunnels under the stockade and got out, but as soon as they were found missing, the rebs would set their blood-hounds after them; they were generally recaptured. The rebs finally built three stockades around the camp, to make it trebly secure, but still an occasional "Yank" would get away.

After General Stoneman made the raid to near Macon, the rebels commenced fortifying the camp. They built five forts, but when Atlanta fell, they were so badly frightened for fear General Sherman would come down and exchange the prisoners on a cartel of his own, they commenced transporting us with all possible speed from Andersonville to Savannah, Georgia, Charleston, South Carolina, and other points.

On the night of September 11th, when within ten miles of Charleston, when the cars were under full headway, I jumped off. They fired nine shots at me, but missed. I travelled by night and slept by day. On the 31st of October I got on board our gunboat Potomska, sixty miles north of Charleston. I am now in the hospital from sickness caused by starvation and exposure in rebel prisons, but before long will be able to join my regiment under the gallant Sherman. Yours respectfully,
J. A. CRINNAN.

OIL INTELLIGENCE.

Fifteen Hundred Barrel Well Struck.

A dispatch was received in the city yesterday announcing that on Tuesday morning a flowing oil well of the capacity of fifteen hundred barrels per day was struck on the Egbert Farm, situated about eight miles up Oil Creek. This well is the property of the Maple Shade Company, whose stock is principally held in the East. The dispatch containing this news states that the information concerning the strike was furnished by eye witnesses, who have no interest in the well. We heard yesterday of large oil strikes in the West Virginia oil region, but could learn no particulars.

The excitement in the new oil region of Dunkard and Whitely creeks, in Greene county, still continues. The Wheeling Intelligencer states that on Dunkard Creek, a few miles above Whitely, there are fifteen derricks up, with engines on the ground, and the parties are either operating or about ready to begin. There are ten other derricks on the ground and ready to be erected, making twenty-five new mills, all of which will soon be in the process of boring. On the Maple farm the St. Clair well is pumping, and it is believed that this well will yield largely if properly worked. It has already produced three hundred barrels. Within a stone's cast is the new well known as the Kramer well, pumping a small but regular stream, and yielding about four barrels per day. Within hailing distance of this is the Wiley well, which has produced as high as eighty barrels per day. The Slocum well, a short distance below, commenced flowing a short time since, but in consequence of the bursting of the tubing, operations have ceased for the present. These four are the only producing wells in this region, and it is worthy of note that these are the only wells which have been sunk sufficiently deep, in the opinion of oil operators, to obtain the greasy fluid.

On Whitely creek the National Oil Company have an engine and boiler on the ground, and are ready to commence boring. The Whitely Creek Oil Company, a Pittsburgh organization, is in full operation. The well of this company is down about eighty feet, and the indications are very favorable. Gas is quite abundant, and it is confidently believed that, at the proper depth, oil will be obtained. The whole of Dunkark and Whitely creeks is evidently good oil territory, and in a few months it will be pretty thoroughly tested. Capitalists from New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities, are flocking thither, and competing vigorously with our own purchesers. There is a constant stream of "prospectors" to and from the oil region, and the best sites are being quickly secured. All along the river, down towards Brownsville, there is considerable excitement in real estate, and the "fever" is spreading rapidly. The exciting scenes of Oil Creek bid fair to be re-enacted here, but whether with the same wonderful results remains to be seen.

WELL PUT.—The emancipation policy, says the New York Post, has taken away from the rebels nearly a million of the population from which they are now drawing soldiers; one hundred thousand colored men, mostly southern blacks, are serving the Union flag. If it had not been for the proclamation and the policy for which Mr. Lincoln is condemned by the McClellan men, these hundred thousand men would to-day be in the hands of Davis, and would next spring serve against the Union, in the rebel armies. The emancipation proclamation and policy have deprived the rebels of a productive population of a million—and yet the American people are told by a parcel of blind politicians that it was a great mistake, that it was a blunder, a "Pope's bull against the comet," and so on.

YOU can't vote for McClellan with out voting for Pendleton, who, in the language of his bosom friend, Ben. Wood, "has never voted a dollar or a man to assist in the prosecution of this unholy war!"

The Rebel Attack of Tuesday Night.

Capture of New Troops.

No Casualties Reported.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC, November 1st.

The surprise and capture of a part of our picket line on Tuesday night, occurred in front of Fort Davis, and the men taken belonged to the 69th and 111th New York regiments. They were for the greater part new men and somewhat ignorant of their duties, and hence were not so watchful as the older troops have been. They were on duty where our men some time ago played the rebels a similar trick, and the utmost vigilance has ever since been exercised on both sides, but when the late movements commenced every man in the ranks left behind had to take his turn on picket, and some of these men, it is said, had never even loaded a gun. It seems the Rebels did not carry off a single musket belonging to our soldiers, as they were all found and brought in by General Pierce's brigade, which went out to re-establish the line. The only way to account for this is that their force was too small to carry so many extra arms, and that they did not have time to return for them. Although the firing was kept up by both sides on the line here, no casualties are reported. Last night the firing was kept up most of the time, but the line remains the same as previous to the affair. All quiet this morning. We are having very pleasant weather here.

Demagogue Seymour's Proclamation

The Election in New York State.

Insidious Attempt to Produce State and Federal Collision.

ALBANY, November 2.

Governor Seymour has issued the following proclamation:

In a few days the citizens of this country are to exercise their constitutional duty of electing a President and Vice President of the United States. At a time when the condition of our country excites the deepest interest, the questions of the day not only affect the personal welfare of all, and the happiness of their homes, but are also of a character to arouse the passions, and lead to angry controversies between parties. The existence of a terrible civil war, and the asserting of the right of military commanders in some sections of our country to interfere with elections, have caused painful and exciting doubts in the minds of many with regard to the free and uncontrolled exercise of the election franchise. I, therefore, appeal to men of political parties to unite with those holding official positions in their efforts to allay undue excitement, soften the harshness of party prejudices and passions, and avoid all measures and language which tend to strife or disorder.

However we may differ in our views of public policy, we are alike interested in the maintenance of order, in the preservation of the rights and the promotion of the prosperity of our State. While we do not agree as to the method by which these ends are to be gained, they are earnestly sought by all. It is certain they cannot be reached by angry controversies, unreasonable suspicions, or disorderly actions. There are no well grounded fears that the right of the citizens of New York will be trampled upon at the polls. The power of this State is ample to protect all classes in the free exercise of their political duties. In doing this the public authorities will be upheld by good citizens of all parties. There is no reason to doubt that the coming election will be conducted with the usual quiet and order. Sheriffs of counties and all other officers whose duty it is to keep the peace and protect our citizens, will take care that every voter shall have a free ballot in the manner secured to him by the Constitution and laws. It will be their duty to see that no military or other organized force shall be allowed to show themselves in the vicinity of the places where elections are held, with any view of menacing or intimidating citizens in attendance thereon. Against any such interferences they must exercise the full force of the law, and call forth, if need be, the power of their districts.

In witness whereof I have hereunto signed my name and affixed the privy seal of the State, at the city of Albany, this second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.
[Signed.] HORATIO SEYMOUR.
By the Governor.

REBEL RAID ON CASTINE, MAINE.

Object to Capture a U. S. Cutter.

The Raiders Routed by the Garrison.

BOSTON, November 2.

A dispatch from Augusta, Me., states that an attempt was made on Monday night to surprise the water battery at Castine, by a raiding party from the land side. The sentinel was fired on, and the bullets came very near others in the garrison, but none were hurt. The party was driven off and escaped in boats.

Second Dispatch.

BELFAST, ME., November 2.

A dispatch to the Mayor of this city from Castine gives the particulars of the attack upon the battery at that town. On Monday at midnight a small party of men approached from the rear and when challenged immediately fired upon the sentinel, who returned the fire. Sergeant Ramsdell was fired upon as he came out of his quarters and four balls lodged within two feet of him. The garrison mustered promptly and pursued the raiders for about half a mile, firing on them, and they replying, when they took to a boat and escaped. The object, it is supposed, was to capture the United States Cutter lying in the harbor. This city has been put into a state of defense by an order from Governor Coney. The home guards are in readiness for duty, and the city Government has increased and armed the police.

Governor Seymour's Commissioners Astounded.

WASHINGTON, November 2.

The trial of Colonel North, New York State agent, has been postponed until to-morrow, in order to give the additional time for preparation, and to enable the prosecution to send for evidence.

Strong efforts are making to obtain a mitigation of the sentence of Ferry and Donohue, the New York agents convicted of election frauds, or procure their pardon.

NEW YORK, November 2.—A Tribune's Washington special says of the soldier's election frauds: Ferry and Donnohue have been sentenced to penetentiary for life. The Secretary of War has approved the sentence, and it will be carried out immediately. New York prisons will not be selected. Marvin Jones, Col. North's Chief Assistant, and confined with him at the Old Capitol, has made a full confession of his complicity in forging votes, and that the business has been carried on at Colonel North's agency, much more extensively than anything done at Baltimore.

It is understood that Gov. Seymour's special commissioners are staggered by his complete implication of Col. North in the frauds. The end is not reached. Messrs. Parker, Allen and Kelly were again present at the military court to-day, and every facility was extended them to prepare a defense for Col. North, which they improved. This occupied the attention of the court until it adjourned. They expect to resume the examination of the papers seized, and the consummation of the case to-morrow, but it is not expected they will be prepared to put Col. North on trial before Friday or Saturday. Newcomb, who was released, writes: "I have been discharged by the Sanitary Commission for disloyalty." Col. North immediately employed him at $40 per month more than he received from the Commission.

The Times' special says: A careful examination of the facts and papers in the case, has convinced Judge Parker and his associates that the latter is a much more serious one than they expected or anticipated prior to their arrival, and assemes with them the proportion of a great crime against the purity of the ballot-box and the rights of electors. The case of Colonel North and his co-conspirators was to-day again adjourned until to-morrow, to enable him and his advisers to procure testimony. Hon. Ransom S. Gillet has been retained as counsel for North, who will be defended with all the zeal and ability that can be had to bear in his behalf.

Guerrilla Attack at Accotink.

Repulsed by Colored Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2

A party of guerrillas made an attack Monday night on the colored company recently raised by Judge Underwood, of Alexandria, Va., at their station near Accotink. Quite a spirited fight occurred, which resulted in the route of the guerrillas.

The Alexandria Gazette has been suspended, owing to Mr. Snowden, the proprietor, being among those Southern sympathizers detailed as safety guards on the Orange and Alexandria railroad against guerrilla attacks.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, November 2.

Additional advices received to-day from the Army of the Potomac state that the capture of prisoners made on Sunday night by the enemy, without firing a shot is being reduced by the return of many who escaped in the darkness and confusion. As the facts are developed from the operations of last week, it turns out that we captured about 1,500 prisoners and did not loose more than two thirds of that number. Some of our wounded on that occasion fell into the hands of the enemy, but subsequently fell into our hands, the rebels having taken the horses of our own men and burned the vehicles.

General Custer, commanding Third Cavalry Division in Sheridan's army, has issued a congratulatory order to his command, in which he says that he captured, on the 19th of October, 45 out of 48 cannon taken from the enemy on that day, making 51 captured by them in the short period of ten days, besides capturing many prisoners and battle flags, and destroying wagon and ambulance trains.

General Halleck returned last night from a visit to General Grant's army. Major-General Butler has arrived from the front. The visit is said to be in connection with some trouble which had arisen relative to the steamers Atlantic and Baltic, formerly by special sanction of the War Department given to the Surgeon-General for hospital purposes, but selected by General Butler to accompany the flag of truce fleet.

The following Western officers have been to-day dismissed the service: Assistant Surgeon W. L. Duncan, 10th Illinois cavalry, for absence without leave; First Sergeant Alexander J. Montgomery, 8th Indiana volunteers, for conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline; First Lieutenant James M. Bethel, 2d Arkansas volunteers, for incompetency and general worthlessness.

An official dispatch from General Canby says that an expedition into West Florida, under the command of Brigadier Gen. Asboth, had reached Marianna, capturing that place after a stubborn resistance of several hours. The result is the capture of eighty-one prisoners of war, among them a Brigadier General and a Colonel, and ninety-five stand of arms, large quantities of Quartermaster's and Commissary's stores, over 200 head of horses and mules, and 400 head of cattle. General Asboth lost an arm in the fight. General Canby reports that Lieutenant Earl of the 4th Wisconsin had captured a highly important rebel mail while it was crossing the Mississippi River.

All but two clerks of the thirty arrested of the large house of Hamilton, Easton & Co., of Baltimore, on a charge of supplying the enemy with goods, have been released, and their establishment again reopened. Several of the parties arrested have also been released.

The news from the Valley as late as this morning is that information had been brought in that Gen. Duffie, captured by guerrillas near Martinsburg, was still a prisoner in Moseby's hands, and unharmed. The report of his being murdered is therefore untrue.

Richmond papers announces the arrival of 388 prisoners from the fight on our right on Thursday last, and among them the following officers from the west: Captain H. Wentworth and Captain H. Sherriff, 19th Wisconsin, and Adjutant Hadleyaft, 18th Wis.

The names of some thirty Western officers, who have been tried by Court-martial and dismissed the service since August, are officially published to-day. The officers comprise almost every one known to military discipline and laws.

Beyond seeing Col. North, New York State Agent, in prison on the charge of election frauds, Gov. Seymour's Commissioners have not succeeded in obtaining what they were sent for. The military authorities have released the soldier's ballots but will to-morrow proceed with the trial of alleged offenders by Court Martial.

The body of the rebel General Ramsuer, killed in the Valley, was sent to Richmond to-day, via City Point, in charge of two Confederate officers specially paroled for that purpose. Quite a number of furloughed officers and men came up from the army to-day to vote.

It is estimated that upwards of 15,000 soldiers have gone home from here to vote.

Col. M. J. Ladington is appointed chief quartermaster of the district, vice Ellison relieved.

Senor Romero, Mexican Minister, gave a large dinner party to-day in honor of General Doblado, of Mexico. Prominent members of the Cabinet were present.

Our pickets were driven into Martinsburg last night.

From North Carolina.

The State Filled With Rebel Deserters.

They Are Armed and Defy Capture.

Conspiracy Discovered in Raleigh.

The Ultimatum of the Conservatives.

Grant Will Compel Lee to Capitulate.

Special Dispatch to Western Associated Press.
NEW YORK, November 2.

Letters from Beaufort, N. C., of the 28th, state that the recent warm weather had developed eight new cases of yellow fever in Beaufort on that day.

Dr. J. W. Ross, a clergyman in North Carolina, arrived here to-day direct from Raleigh. He says the entire state of North Carolina as well as Georgia is alive with rebel deserters, who, in most cases, are armed and organized, and abundantly able to protect themselves. In the Western part of the state they reign supreme. They not only make repeated raids on the wealthy planters and rebel depots for supplies, but give protection to runaway slaves, who are also armed and accompany these bands of deserters in their raiding expeditions. The rebel authorities, says Dr. Ross, have given up all hope of forcing these men back into the ranks, having been repulsed in all their efforts to this end. Every expedition filled out for this purpose by the rebels has proved a failure. Those who were not killed deserted to the insurgents, whose numbers are continually increasing. Jeff. Davis said, when in Raleigh, that the deserters of the Confederate army outnumbered the Confederate soldiers in the field.

The extensive conspiracy recently brought to light at Raleigh, implicates many prominent officers of the Confederation party, who now openly threaten to head these deserters and their friends, and take possession of the State Government of North Carolina, and all the railroads, in the event Governor Vance fails to institute at once separate State action for peace with President Lincoln.

The Dr. says it is now apparent to the rebel authorities that Gen. Grant has been affording facilities to Gen. Lee to increase his reinforcements when Grant by a sudden spring of his trap will close up the last gap and oblige Lee to capitulate. This, Gov. Vance says, is Grant's plan, which has given Jeff. Davis much concern, who is in favor of evacuating Virginia altogether, having repeatedly implored Lee to do so and not incur the risk of capitulation of his army. This was told to Dr. Ross just before leaving by an aid on Gov. Vance's staff.

Steamer Universe Snagged and Sunk.

Rebel Prisoners Drowned.

Successful Cavalry Expedition.

CAIRO, Nov. 2.

The steamer Universe, bound up, struck a snag and sunk fifty miles below Memphis, on Sunday. Four or five passengers and the same number of rebel prisoners were drowned. Seventy-five rebel prisoners from Vicksburg were on board, twelve of whom, including a captain, escaped. The remainder were brought up on the Belle to St. Louis and forwarded to Chicago. The Universe is a total loss. 2,000 barrels of pork belonging to the Government were among her cargo.

Two hundred federal cavalry recently sent across the river from Memphis to hunt guerrillas, came upon a small force near Marion, and captured thirty stand of arms. Two miles beyond Marion they came upon 600 or 800 rebels. After some skirmishing our forces fell back to the river, followed by the enemy, where they were driven back in confusion by a gunboat. A number of prisoners and horses were captured by our forces.

Five hundred federal cavalry sent from Little Rock, Arkansas, some days since, encountered the pickets of a large force of Texan Rangers at Camden. A dash was made into the town and after a severe fight, the rebels were driven out, leaving a number of horses and twenty-two killed in our hands. Our total loss was fifteen.

The Dismissal of Officers,

Lieut. Cushing to be Rewarded.

Slaves Set Free in Baltimore.

WASHINGTON, November 2.

An official record of the Court-martial cases has been published. The list embraces one Colonel, one Major, twenty-two Captains, twenty-five First Lieutenants, twenty Second Lieutenants, two Assistant Surgeons and one Chaplain. They were convicted of various offenses, including neglect of duty, embezzlement, and twenty-five for drunkenness while on duty. The larger number of these officers were dismissed the service.

Lieutenant Cushing arrived here, bringing with him the official report of the particulars attending his destruction of the rebel ram Albemarle. This relieves all the sounds of North Carolina from floating enemies, and thus leaving them free to the operations of our fleet. Lieutenant Cushing is a citizen of and was appointed from New York. He is satisfied that a large number of lives must have been lost by the blowing up, as the Albemarle's guns were all manned. The Secretary of the Navy will recommend Congress to give him a vote of thanks, and he will be promoted to Lieutenant Commander.

Contracts for 26,000 barrels of flour were awarded to-day by the Commissary Department at from $12 50 to $12 85.

The New York commission have not yet accomplished the main object of their visit.

The New York Post's special says: Slaves were set free yesterday in Baltimore, in pursuance of an order of the court under the new Constitution of Maryland.

President Juarez at Chihuahua,

Deaths from Yellow Fever in Texas.

NEW YORK, November 2.

Per steamer Eagle we have Havana dates to the 29th ult., City of Mexico dates of the 12th, and Vera Cruz of the 23d. The reported occupation of Matamoras by Mejia and the adhesion to the emperor of Cortinas is confirmed. A severe earthquake occurred on the 3d, destroying a church and ecclesiastical court room at Laxicula and damaging other buildings. There were but few deaths. Damages were also sustained at San Nicolas, Kaloga and other places. A water spout fell on the city of Monte Alto, flooding the streets and surrounding country, and doing much damage.

The Estaffe says some forty persons have been arrested in the City of Mexico as conspirators. It is said Diego, at Varez, of the State of Guerro, is about to submit to Maximillian. Also, that Juarez has crossed the desert San Carlos into Chihuahua.

The yellow fever is still raging in Galveston and Houston. Among the deaths are Gen. J. M. Howes, Dr. Sims, just from Mobile, and Rev. J. M. Gosborn. It is reported the Pirate Semmes arrived in Havana in the English packet Solent, under the name of Smith.

THE REPORTED DRAFT A FICTION.—It has been widely reported that there is to be another draft immediately after the election. This story is false. It was invented, of course, for electioneering purposes by the party which just now makes it its principal business to let the people know a great deal about the horrors of war and the beauties of peace. This party has spread the fiction industriously, in the hope to frighten a man here and there, and thus to influence a vote against Mr. Lincoln, who is understood to be the father of all the drafts—though, we believe, there is no doubt that the man who first urged the enforcement of the draft was General McClellan.—New York Herald, Oct. 29th.

Destruction of the Albermarle.

Official Report of Lieut. Cushing.

WASHINGTON, November 2.

Admiral Porter has communicated to the Secretary of the Navy the following from Lieut. Cushing as to the sinking of the rebel Ram Albermarle:

ALBERMARLE SOUND, October 30. SIR:—I have the honor to report that the rebel iron clad Albermarle is at the bottom of the Roanoke river. On the night of the 27th, having prepared my steam launch, I proceded towards Plymouth with thirteen officers and men, partly volunteers from the squadron. The distance from the mouth of the river to the Ram was eight miles, the stream averaging a width of some 200 yards, and lined with the enemy's pickets. A mile below the town was the wreck of the "Southfield," surrounded by schooners. It was understood that the gun was mounted there to command the bend. I, therefore, took one of the Shamrock's cutters in tow, with orders to cast off and board at the point if we were hailed. Our boat proceeded in passing the pickets and even the "Southfield" within 20 yards, without discovery. We were not hailed until by the lookouts on the ram. The cutter was then cast off and ordered below, while we made for the enemy under full head of steam. The rebels sprung their rattles, rang the bell and commenced firing, at the same time repeating their hail and seeming much confused. The light of the fire ashore showed me the iron-clad made fast to the wharf with logs around her, thirty feet from her side. Passing her closely, we made a complete circle so as to strike her fairly and went into her bows. By this time the enemy's fire was severe, but a dose of canister, short range, seemed to disturb their aim. Paymaster Swan, of the Otsego, was wounded near me, but how many more I know not. Three bullets struck my clothing. The air seemed full of them. In a moment we had struck the logs just abreast of the quarter port, breaking them in some feet, our bows resting on them. The torpedo boom was then lowered and I succeeded in driving the torpedo under her and exploding it. At the same time the Albemarle's guns fired and a shot went through my boat and a dense mass of water rushed in from the torpedo filling the launch and completely disabling her. The enemy continued his fire at 15 feet range, and demanded our surrender, which I twice refused. Ordering the men to save themselves, and removing my overcoat and shoes, springing into the water, I swam with the others into the middle of the stream, the rebels failing to hit us. Most of our party were captured, and some drowned. Only one escaped besides myself. He went in another direction. Completely exhausted I managed to reach shore, but too weak to crawl out of the water till daylight. I managed to creep into the swamp close to the fort. While hiding close to the path the Albermarle's officers passed. I judged from their conversation the ship was destroyed. Some hours traveling in the swamp proved to bring me out well below town, when I sent a negro to gain information and found the ram was truly sunk. Proceeding through another swamp I came to a creek, captured a skiff belonging to a picket of the enemy, and with this by eleven o'clock the next night made my way to the Valley City. The ram is now completely submerged and the enemy have sunk three schooners in the river to obstruct the passage of our ships.

I am, respectfully,
W. B. CUSHING, Lieut. U. S. N.

The Financial Crisis Abroad.

The Germania's advices give details of numerous additional failures in Europe. The panic appears to have partially extended to the principal centres of Europe, and has resulted in considerable commercial embarrassments in Paris and Frankfort. The resolution adopted by the directors of the Bank of France to raise the rate of discount from seven to eight per cent. has produced an unfavorable impression in Parisian commercial circles. It presses particularly on traders with a small capital, who are forced to sell for credit. The London Times, of October 18, says:

The advices from Frankfort state that the liquidation for the middle of the month in that market was one of the worst for a long time. The continuous influx of American bonds, which was not felt so long as there was an abundance of money, because suddenly apparent, and as much as nine per cent. interest was paid for carrying transactions forward to next account, while Austrian funds, for which in the beginning seven or eight per cent. was charged, were ultimately taken at three per cent. by speculators for a fall.

There is, it is remarked, a general impression that the offspring of the French Mobilier, such as the Italian and the Netherlands Mobilier, are the real cause of this disturbance of our money markets, as it is credibly reported that the Banks of Amsterdam have 10,000,000 florins in bills of such banks in hand, which they will not renew. Up to the present time no failures have been reported at Frankfort or in any other part of Germany, with the exception of Austria, where many have occurred, particularly in consequence of the depressed state of the sugar trade.

In England, merchants engaged in the Australian trade were showing symptoms of weakness, and four failures in this branch of trade were reported. The British cotton market continued depressed, and failures were occurring among the manufacturers of Lancanshire. Manchester correspondence of the London Times, dated the 18th October, says:

We have to report the gloomiest market to-day that has yet occurred since the present crisis commenced. Some of our spinners and manufacturers had been led to expect, to use their own phrase, "that things had taken a turn," and that prices had reached a minimum. In consequence of this feeling manufacturers in several instances had written or telegraphed to their Manchester agents to advance selling quotations for their cloth 1d to 2d per ℔. To such persons the market has proved a great disappointment. In home trade yarns the rumors of failures have had a depressing effect, and there is a want of confidence, so that we have had a more stagnant market than previously. Low cop yarns as well a low bundled yarns are cheaper. Cloth has been excedingly difficult to sell.

We hear of six or seven more manufacturers having stopped payment to-day, and the feeling of gloom seems to be increasing as the knowledge of these failures come to the public ear. The commercial public have, of course, been awaiting advices from India with some anxiety, and a private telegram has been received to-day (the first since news of the crises had begun to arrive out), and it bears out the fears entertained here that a reflex of the advices sent hence would be discouraged. According to this telegram the markets there had been paralyzed by the bad accounts to hand from this side. The large purchases of cotton at Liverpool to arrive are producing their effect, and we hear of stocks purchased at 24d. ℔ ℔. selling at 16d., and in some instances as low as 15d. and 14d. ℔ ℔.

A letter from London, under date of October 14th says:

The announcement yesterday from New York of the failure of Messrs. Maxwell, Wright & Co., of Baltimore, was received with surprise and great regret. The bills drawn on London by their Rio house were yesterday, it is stated, refused acceptance by their agents here.

Shooting and Stabbing at Washington, Pennsylvania.

From the Wheeling Register we learn that a murder was committed in Washington, Pa., on Tuesday. The particulars are given as follows

Mr. Benj. Brady and Mr. Richard Fitzwilliams got into a dispute while standing on Main street. One word brought on another, when Fitzwilliams gave Brady the lie. Brady struck at Fitzwilliams, when the latter drew a knife and stabbed Brady to the heart the first blow. The knife was drawn and plunged into the other side of Brady, killing him instantly.

Brady's friends soon heard of the affair, and a desperate mob was soon in motion. It was said that Fitzwilliams had entered the Fulton House; quick as thought some twenty or thirty men ran into the hotel. Doors were broken open, and a number of rooms searched, but the murderer could not be found. One of the mob-bing party ran across a negro as he was coming out of the hotel. The darkey was struck a terrible blow, and left to his fate. A rush was then made down Main street, some forty or fifty men, flushed with rage, and arms in their hands, running and yelling as if mad. When they reached the dwelling of Mr. Sweeney they were joined by about one hundred more.

A rush was made into Sweeney's store, and the building was searched from cellar to garret. The murderer was finally found in a coal vault in front of Sweney's store. When brought out he was set upon by the angry mob, and literally beaten into a jelly. He was struck with stones, clubs, revolvers; then kicked and dragged around the street. Cries of "Hang him," "Shoot him," "Kill the murderer!" rent the air, and for a time it was feared he would be hung. He was finally rescued and placed in jail, where he remained when we left town at half past seven o'clock last night. It was thought the murderer could not live over night. While the murderer was being beaten, he cried—"For God's sake have mercy, gentlemen. Sweeney gave me the knife or I should never have done the deed." We never before saw such a desperate mob, and hope that we may never again be pained by such a horrible sight.

Brady leaves a wife and three children: Fitzwilliams is a single man, aged about thirty years. He resides in Franklin township, adjoining the borough of Washington.

From the Wheeling Intelligencer we have the following particulars of a shooting affray in the same village on Monday, which resulted in the death of a man named Robert Morrow:

There was a large Union meeting at the Court House on the evening in question. During the meeting, Morrow, who is a War Democrat, got into an altercation with his former political associates about politics, but withdrew from the party and went into a hotel. He was followed to the hotel by some of the men with whom he had quarrelled, and was compelled to take refuge in the office of Col. Byers, the Sheriff of the county. While sitting in the office, some one came and called him into the street, and soon afterwards a shot was fired at him. Morrow drew his pistol and commenced firing at the crowd, and some ten or a dozen shots were fired. One of the shots passed through the fleshy part of the arm of a man named Brady and entered Morrow's right side, passing out at his left. Morrow was in a critical condition yesterday morning, and no hopes were entertained of his recovery. The shot which took effect in Morrow's side is supposed to have been fired by a man named Lennox, though this is not certainly known. When our informant left, no arrests had been made.

A trip over the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad will amaze the traveler with its strength and resources. The Erie City Dispatch says: A more interesting, valuable, or important country does not exist than is passed over by this route, and however much has been said of it, the half has not been told. It abounds with coal, minerals, lumber, and every natural product which enters into the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country, and in all respects, except that of agriculture, the new route will develope as rich and interesting territory as was ever brought into use. The company is erecting large and spacious buildings of the most substantial character at all the principal points along the route—engine houses, machine shops, station houses, &c., and towns are springing into existence like the work of magic. This road is giving the Atlantic & Great Western folks a new outlet to New York, via the Quakake, Beaver Meadow, Lehigh Valley, and New Jersey Central Railroads. The latter now has a third rail, for six foot track, and the guage will be eventually extended over the entire route.

The completion of the branch railroad between Franklin and Oil City, may be anticipated at an early day. A large force is now at work on it, and the work is being pushed rapidly.

By the recent change of the time table, trains on the Central Ohio Railroad will hereafter connect with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh trains at 6.25 A. M. and 8.02 P. M. going west, and at 11 A. M. and 10 P. M. coming east. The 4 P. M. accommodation train for Pittsburgh leaves Wheeling as usual.

The Peoria, Pekin and Jacksonville Railroad is now nearly finished between Peoria and Pekin. The Tazewell Register says the work is progressing as rapidly as possible. The track is completed to within a short distance of Peoria, and in a few days will be in a condition to permit the transportation to that place of the new locomotives now at Peoria, though the road will not be ready for regular travel before the first of December.

DE HOUGHTON'S APPEAL FOR PEACE.—Thomas H. Dudley, American Consul at Liverpool, has, under date of Oct. 15, written to Secretary Seward relative to the letter from Sir Henry de Houghton to Gov. Seymour, inclosing the address of the people of the United Kingdom to the people of the United States, asking them, if not in expression at least in substance, to acknowledge the independence of the South. He says Sir Henry's interest in the Confederate loan, and the advance he has made on account of the Southern Confederacy, amount to the sum of £350,000 sterling. He is also a member of the Southern Independence Association. This association was foremost for the express purpose of aiding, in every possible way, the South to achieve their independence, and has labored unceasingly, from the time of its formation to the present, to accomplish this object. More recently it has turned its attention to the politics of the United States, and especially to the Presidential election about to take place, as the most effectual way of aiding the South in its work of dismembering the Union. This address has emanated from the Peace Association. In conclusion, after remarks of a political character, Mr. Dudley says: "It will be seen from a slip inclosed, cut from the Liverpool Daily Post, that Lady Houghton, wife of Sir Henry, is to have a stall in the great bazaar, to be held in Liverpool, to raise funds for the Confederates."

THE CAMELS ARE COMING.—A Southampton paper gives this account of the shipping of a female camel and her young one, which lately arrived there to be sent to New York by the Bremen steamer New York:

"They were accompanied by an Arab keeper. By no contrivance could the older camel be induced to cross the gangway from the dock to ship, although the Arab tried by blows and by coaxing with a bag of oats to get her on board. The young camel—about the size of a pony, and covered with beautifully soft silky hair—stuck to his dam. As the tide was about to ebb the pilot on board the ship became impatient, and called out 'Have the animals shipped.' A number of the German passengers on board the New York rushed on shore, and amidst shouts of laughter took the young camel up in their arms and carried him bodily on to the steamer, and the ship was obliged to leave the side of the dock immediately, leaving the she camel behind. The young camel began to cry in the most pitiful manner on being separated from his dam, and the latter hearing the cries moaned distressingly; her eyes were moistened with tears, and her head was slowly and solemnly moving to and fro, looking for her young one. At length she was put into a horse box and slung on board a steam-tug and taken out to the New York, which waited in the stream for her."

THE WILMINGTON BLOCKADE.—The Charleston Mercury of October 22d says: "From a gentleman just from Wilmington we learn that the blockade of that port is as effective as Yankee ingenuity and an unlimited force of gunboats can make it. They have now established two lines of picket boats in the offing to give the alarm of the attempted egress of blockade-runners, and as soon as the latter make their appearance the boats throw up rockets and burn blue-lights. The Yankee arrangements for blockading the port are good, and will hold so perhaps a month longer, when they will all be swept away by the rude blasts of winter.'

MAJOR GENERAL BIRNEY left but a poor provision for his large and interesting family. In going into the army he gave up a large and lucrative business, and his pay has never been such as to enable him to lay by anything. A movement has been set on foot by his friends in Philadelphia to raise a fund for his widow and family, and the subscriptions already made are so large as to render it certain that an ample sum will be obtained. The project to erect a magnificent monument to his memory has been abandoned. A proper monument, however, will be put up, and the bulk of the fund contributed will be set apart for his widow and children.

CITY MATTERS.

REPORTED RIOT AND MURDER IN WASHINGTON.—Rumor was rife yesterday to the effect that a serious riot occurred in Washington, Pa., on Tuesday, during the progress of a Democratic meeting there, and that one man was killed, and another mortally wounded. A letter from a young lady residing in Washington states that Ben. Brady made an assault on Will. Vance, knocking him down and abusing him badly, and that a man named John Lennox shot R. P. Morrow through the kidneys. The writer also states that she has just been informed that Ben. Brady and Dick Fitzwilliams had a fight in the street, and that Dick cut Ben. open with a knife. Ben. Brady is reported dead, and it is said that they have caught Fitzwilliams and killed him. We conversed with a gentleman from Washington last evening, who informed us that Fitzwilliams had cut Brady badly in a fight, but he had no knowledge of Fitzwilliams being killed, or of the other assaults alluded to above.

IN THE CITY.—Lieutenant Frank Goodin of the 139th Regiment, is in the city on a short visit to his friends, looking as healthy and amiable as ever. He is at present on duty at City Point, as Acting Assistant Quartermaster in the Army of the Potomac.

Solemn Warning.

GOV. SEYMOUR, of New York, who has boasted so long of being the organizer of the machinery by which his State was to be carried at the ensuing election for GEORGE B. McCLELLAN and himself, has been checkmated; his plans are revealed, and the principle upon which he has been "exhausting the resources of his statesmanship" is now plainly understood. His minions at Baltimore and Washington were found out in their frauds upon the ballot box just in time to preserve the rights of at least some of the gallant soldiers who are defending traitors like SEYMOUR and his "friends." Two of them have been sentenced to imprisonment for life—a very small forfeit for the liberty of the nation which they plotted to destroy. The sentence however, is a righteous one, and no man who loves his country can except to its justice.

Meantime MARVIN JONES, another of the miscreants in the service of HORATIO SEYMOUR, in the State Agency at Washington, has made a confession of the wholesale frauds which Col. NORTH and himself have been committing upon the soldiers; and the three Commissioners, who were recently appointed by SEYMOUR to proceed to Washington to investigate the frauds, acknowledge themselves overwhelmed in astonishment with the extent to which the perfidious business has been carried on. Now, this HORATIO SEYMOUR, who boasts of his management of Democratic (?) politics; who planned these gigantic frauds which are now exposed; who has, from the breaking out of the rebellion, counselled resistance to the Government by revolution; who recommended to the State of New York the adoption of the Montgomery Constitution; who spoke treason on the 4th of July, 1863, in New York City, while his "friends" were organizing for riot, rapine, and murder of innocent and helpless men, women and children—this HORATIO SEYMOUR, of whom Copperheads boast as being the oracle of their mad rebellious spirit, is he who prepared and planned the conspiracy now disclosed, who appointed such agents as he knew were competent and abundantly willing to obey his behests, asks to be Governor of the great State of New York for two years more. We venture to say that no man in the United States occupying exalted position has been so guilty of treason against the government of the United States all through the present war as Governor HORATIO SEYMOUR, and we trust that in due time his crimes will be properly punished. We hope, meantime, that there is honor enough left in the State to which he belongs to defeat him in the most signal manner at the polls next Tuesday.

But this crime is the index of what is going on in the ranks of the Copperhead party elsewhere. At no time since the foundation of the government has there been so much treason, so much talk about revolution as during the Presidential campaign now closing, at the meetings of the so called Democracy. It is time for every man who loves his country to ask himself what his duty is in this crisis? The secret plans and plottings of the Copperheads are known. They have resolved against peace and good order, and it becomes every good citizen to view this as no idle speculation but as a fact which bespeaks the importance of preparation for the safety of the nation, the defense of the Government, and the maintenance of peace and order at and around our homes. We have had the first fruits of Seymourism in the New York riots of 1863, in the armed and murderous resistance to the draft in our own State, and latterly in the frauds committed against our brothers and sons in the field of battle.

This assault upon the rights of the Nation must be resented. Our homes must be defended. The sacredness of the Ballot Box of the Republic must be preserved. Our Government must be protected and its efforts to crush a godless, an inexcusable and unprovoked Rebellion thoroughly vindicated. The developments of these latter times warn us of the danger precipitated upon us by home traitors, and admonish us of the duty we owe to ourselves, our families, our State and the General Government. This is no mere party appeal which we make, but a solemn warning which, with the facts that have come to our knowledge, we feel compelled to give.

* * *

The McClellanites stand pledged against Emancipation and negro soldiers, and would, if they had the power, take the back track on that as on nearly everything else. And this they would do at the moment the South is bringing 300,000 negro troops into the field under the promise of emancipation and pay. It would be all right for the rebels to employ negroes to destroy the country, but monstrous to employ them to save it.

* * *

Governor SEYMOUR sent three men of his own party to Washington to astound the country with an exposure of the Administration, but they became astounded themselves at the monstrous frauds confessed by one of the innocent wretches they were sent to defend.

* * *

SEYMOUR in his endeavors to carry New York, was unfortunate in selecting agents to do the work of fraud. He should know his "friends" better than to select one who would "go back on him."

* * *

THE REASON WHY BELMONT BETS.—Fraudulent soldiers' votes manufactured to order, and sent off in dry goods boxes.

* * *

THE meeting of bankers and merchants in favor of McClellan, in New York, Monday, was a failure, few of either class being there.

Convention of the States.

The Chicago Convention demanded an armistice with a view to peace eventually through a Convention of the States, and by this specious device it is hoped to secure the votes of the people for their candidates. Every reflecting man must see that such a Convention is not only impracticable, but that it was suggested to deceive the people for a more dastardly purpose. The authority for a Convention of the States must emanate from the United States Government and no State can act upon the matter without a recognition of that Government. With the loyal States there would be no difficulty, but with those in rebellion, the case would be different. They claim to have seceded, to be no longer subject to the authority of the Government at Washington, for to resist that authority and to throw off that Government is the purpose of their rebellion. Can any man be so void of judgment as to believe that they can ever be brought by such means as the Chicago platform to act under any authority emanating from the Government they are so bitterly opposing? Every State, in sending delegates to such a Convention, must recognize the authority under which it acts, and acknowledge the source thereof—the United States Government. To do so on the part of the rebellious States would be a surrender of the whole question between them and us.

Now it is simply absurd to suppose that the rebels will make such an acknowledgment through a Convention, after the declaration of the Peace party that we have failed to compel, by arms, their submission to the Government. If it be true, as that party alleges, that they are able to maintain their rebellion against the armed efforts of the Government, it is supreme folly to suppose that they will tamely submit after those efforts are withdrawn. It is unreasonable to think that they will do of themselves, freely and voluntarily, what we are unable to compel them to do. Separate independence is their object, and that or annihilation they declare they will have.

The United States Government knows nothing of that of the so-called "Confederate States of America," and in the matter of a Convention of the States, it would be entirely disregarded. Here would be the beginning of the trouble. That usurpation would not allow the States composing it to do anything to its prejudice. Our Government could not hold any communication with it without recognizing it, and that would be a surrender of the whole question on our part. But suppose that the question of recognition in such a case be waived, how would the matter stand? Either our government would have to acknowledge that of the Rebels, or they would have to surrender theirs and acknowledge ours—neither of which results can ever be attained through such means. But it may be said that, for the sake of peace, it would be well for us to waive the recognition of the Federal Government by the act of the seceded States, in sending delegates to a Convention. In that case the same difficulty first suggested would occur. The same power from which comes the suggestion of a convention declares the war to restore the Union a failure. Such a declaration most certainly acknowledges the success of the rebellion, and all that a convention would have to do would be to arrange the terms upon which to separate. To think that the Rebels would yield such acknowledged advantages is preposterous.

In no view of the subject are we able to see any possible advantage in a convention of the States that can accrue to the true Government. Everything is for the Rebels, and was so intended by the Chicago party. No good word was spoken for the Federal Government, but every vituperation and abuse was heaped upon it, while no condemnation was uttered against the unholy rebellion. It is not difficult, therefore, to determine which party in this great contest had, and continues to have, the entire sympathy of the Copperhead-Peace party.

Independent Voting.

A Boston paper remarks that the Administration will receive the votes of a very large number of gentlemen who have not heretofore voted the Republican ticket, and that every day is adding to this list.

We believe this remark to be true not of Boston alone; what is true of that locality is equally true of nearly every other, for the reasons are universal and patent to thinking men everywhere. The times are well calculated to make reflecting men serious; but the proposition to change the Government now, to hands that are joined with those of the rebels is full of danger, immediate and overshadowing. It would be a blow, struck from within, and aimed at the Government struggling for life; and it consequently would be a blow aimed at the public credit, and in its effect destructive to the accumulations of the past and all the promises of the future. It is difficult to see how any man can be blind to this fact. The Chicago ticket was brought forth really more in the interest of the rebellion than the Federal Government. For the former it had not one word of reproof, but for the latter it could not find words sufficiently to express its accusations. Do men holding the evidences of the Nation's faith intend to endorse that spirit? Do they wish to see the Government transferred to men professing it, and giving all the guaranty it is possible for them to give, that they will make it the standard of their action? Had the Government been transferred to their hands when the Chicago Convention separated, had the spirit of its proceedings, and the spirit which has since been manifested, been embodied practically in a governmental policy, as it will be if McCLELLAN is elected, where would public and private credit be to-day? What would the National pledges be worth, and what would be the financial and business condition of the country now?

The man who closes the door of his judgment and shuts out these momentous questions, does violence to himself and does what he can to inflict a fatal public injury. The subject is too important to be degraded to the level of partizanship. Not only the existence of the government, but all any man has is at stake. Whoever examines as he should the issues of this contest, can reach no other conclusion. Hence, we say, we are entirely confident that the administration will receive the votes of very many who have hitherto acted with the Democratic party.

Brownson for Lincoln.

The distinguished Orestes A. Brownson, heretofore vehemently opposing Lincoln, now declares the choice between the candidates of Baltimore and of Chicago is virtually a choice between Union and Disunion, hence he goes for Mr. Lincoln. He says: "I cannot vote for a Peace ticket, for this war has cost me too much for me to be willing it should end till the rebellion is put down and the authority and majesty of the Government vindicated." So will respond the people on the 8th of November.

* * *

THE Pittsburgh Post called the soldiers "Lincoln's hirelings," who were unworthy of pensions, but that the rebels were "victims," whom the Democracy would ever hold in remembrance. This infamous language has been equaled only by the following from the Boston Courier, the Copperhead organ there:

"An army made up 'in a great degree,' of 'jail birds, foreigners, and vagabonds.' Hessians and negroes—men merely hired to do fighting without any special interest in it, except to save their own skins, does not constitute a very efficient force."

APPLES FOR THE ARMY.—A number of citizens of New York, desirous of enhancing the Thanksgiving comforts of our soldiers before Petersburg and Richmond, have started a movement to send one thousand barrels of apples to the front. Government has agreed to provide free transportation.

A Pittsburgh School of Design for Women Proposed.

The most casual observer in our large cities must have noticed no small amount of suffering and destitution among females who are shut out from nearly all the avenues of enterprise in which it is possible and even practicable for them to earn a livelihood for themselves, their families, and in many cases, sick and infirm parents who are dependent upon them for support. This exclusion from the more remunerative branches of industry and art, is rendered more certain by the absence of any schools or institutions in which they might be educated and trained for occupations peculiarly adapted to their gentler capacities. This want is an evil which society inflicts upon itself, and is one which cannot fail to be prolific of social burdens which may be easier imagined than described. We come to feel this truth more sensibly now by the great demand for female labor to fill the hiatus made by the absence of tens of thousands of our men who are so bravely doing battle against the common enemy of our nation in the field. Not only so, but we see the evil in the uneducated efforts—struggles to live, on the part of mothers, wives and sisters who are compelled to resort to all sorts of menial employments to enable them to support the helpless dependents upon them, while husbands, fathers and brothers are defending the nation from threatened ruin.

The reader very readily says: "This is all wrong—it should not be so." If, then, our country is to be saved from the female degradation which has afflicted the nations of the old world, it is suggested that some ameliorative plan be devised by which society may, in a large measure, take charge of the mental development of the girls of the rising generation, so that all the peculiar powers with which they have been endowed by the Creator may be called into the fulfilment of the refining mission for which we believe they are intended. Thus they will be enabled to help themselves and their friends, while they will exalt the general character of the sterner sex, and adorn all the walks of life.

Oppression, deprivation, and suffering in a thousand untold forms, which now bear down heavily upon the fairer portion of our population should be removed, and we do not believe that there is a man in the community so unmanly as to refuse co-operation in any work that may tend to release woman from the dangers and difficulties with which her path is now beset. The crowds of women who throng every place where work is to be had, at compensation so low as to make men wonder how they can do it—from one dollar and eighty cents to three dollars a week, is surely, sufficiently suggestive of the necessity of which we speak.

What society has been accustomed to call "education and refinement" does not meet the want to which we refer, for we have seen many a family whose members could lay claim to these qualities, who were, nevertheless, in necessitous circumstances, and their case rendered the more desperate and wretched by their "education and refinement," without the practical sense of the application of these qualities to the actual demands of every day life. This false idea of "education and refinement"—which avoids the duty of preparing our young women for the exigencies of life, has brought many a proud family low; has prevented many a proud family, when fallen, from being able to rise again.

A little reflection on this subject has prompted us to hail with satisfaction an effort now being made in this city for the establishment of a "School of Design for women," similar to those which have been fraught with so much benefit to the pupils and to society at large in several of the eastern cities. We understand that when the funds necessary shall have been procured, this "Pittsburgh School of Design for Women," for the education of young ladies in the art of drawing and painting will be established, and that its work will be to a great extent directed to the manufactures of our own State; that it will be provided with an art library, a picture gallery and a museum of ornamental art, open to our citizens generally.

The following named gentlemen have submitted to the proposed undertaking: C. G. Hussey, W. M. Lyon, James Park, Jr. James Laughlin, George A. Berry, James B. Lyon, James M. Cooper, Francis Sellers, Byron H. Painter, Wm. Thaw, T. S. Clark, N. Holmes, and George R. White.

There can be no doubt that our people generally will fall into the support of this grand institution, which is an effort to aid intelligent girls, of all conditions of life, to raise themselves to the dignity of self maintenance.

We have been informed that as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers shall have come forward, an organization will be perfected and the institution duly inaugurated under the auspices of a Board of Directors.

General Intelligence

Some interest has been created by the discovery of a number of Indian curiosities in the lands of the English Land Company, in the township of Dysart, Canada. The men at work in the company's road accidentally found an Indian grave, and on opening it found buried therein a number of silver trinkets of excellent workmanship and in capital preservation. There are said to be numbers of these graves throughout the English Company's lands, they having been in former years the neutral ground between the Chippewas and Mohawks. The company's officers have taken steps to have those graves respected.

Five hundred pounds of pumpkins, the fruit of two seeds accidentally sown, have been gathered in Middleburg, Vermont.

The Keokuk packet was fired into by guerrillas, last Tuesday night below Louisiana. A great ball grazed the temple of one of the lady passengers, and another ball passed through the breast of the overcoat of a gentleman standing on the deck. Shots were fired from both sides of the river.

The Missouri Democrat says that on Saturday evening guerrillas stopped and set fire to a construction train on the North Missouri railroad five miles beyond Warrenton, and sent it onward again, still in flames. The rebels then tore up a rail and soon afterwards a freight train from Warrenton was in consequence thrown from the track and upset. The escort on the train commenced fighting the guerrillas, with what result was not heard. The conductor of the train succeeded in getting away, and went toward Warrenton, in time to prevent the passenger train from going on and being wrecked. The guerrillas were said to number some four hundred, but this probably was an exaggeration.

On Saturday last the Hartford (Conn.) Courant completed the one hundredth year of its existence. It was started in Hartford, October 29, 1764, by Thomas Green "at the Heart and Crown, near the North Meeting-house," under the title of the Connecticut Courant. The present publishers signalized the centennial by reproducing the first number in fac simile. The following reminiscences are interesting: "During the war of Independence, our publishers erected a paper mill in Hartford, and made the paper on which they printed, and numerous appeals and entreaties are to be found in our files to the good people of Connecticut to save every scrap of rags or other material that could be converted into paper, (cotton was not used in those days), and bring it to the Courant office for the use of the paper mill. Whatever we may be now, there is no doubt that the early publishers of the Courant were patriotic and courageous in opposing the tyranny of the ministers of George III., the stamp act, the tea tax, &c. Historians like Bancroft, Trumbull, Stuart, Hollister, and other writers and politicians have freely quoted and cited from the files of the Courant. At the time when the acceptance or rejection of the Constitution of the United States was pending, the debate is fully reported, and as such men as Oliver Ellsworth, Jeremiah Wadsworth, and Roger Sherman took part in it, no abler debate can be found. The Courant reached its twelfth year before the first gun of the revolution called a new nation into being. During the eight years of bloodshed, distress and poverty that followed, it held on its even course without interruption for a single week. At the time when the adoption of the Federal Constitution gave birth to the Union, the Courant was older than a large majority of the papers now published in the United States. Its files chronicle the difficulties that beset the Administration of Washington, and the wise measures that were adopted to remedy them. One Administration succeeded another; political parties rose and fell; religious intolerance gave way slowly to healthy freedom; heroes passed from earth; great debates, where giant intellects in mighty but peaceful conflict settled the policy of the republic, occurred; wars and rumors of wars waked the martial spirit, and put the strength of the nation to test—all these and countless other changes the Courant has lived to record. It is, dear reader, one of the oldest institutions on the continent."

A Reference for the Time.

The Rev. Col. Moody, who addressed the people of this city on Saturday night, and of Allegheny on Monday night, in the course of his speeches called upon the audience to unite with him in singing the following stanzas, so well appointed for the time, although written by Dr. Watts in the last century:

Go with our armies to the fight,
And be their Guardian God;
In vain Confederate powers unite
Against Thy lifted rod.

Our troops shall gain a wide renown,
By Thine assisting hand;
Thy power will bid the Traitors flee,
And make the Loyal stand.

For right is right while God is God,
And right the day must win;
To doubt would be disloyalty,
To falter would be sin.

"IN THE NAME OF GOD WE SET UP OUR BANNERS."

Sketch of a Sermon by the Rev. Col. Moody last Sunday Evening, October 30, in Liberty street Methodist Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh.

Sunday evening last the Rev. Col. Granville Moody occupied the pulpit in the Liberty street Methodist Episcopal Church. The occasion was one of marked interest, the edifice being literally packed with hearers, while many more could not gain access. The text was chosen from the 20th psalm, the 5th verse, as follows:

"In the name of our God we will set up our banners. We will rejoice in Thy salvation."

After an appropriate introduction, in which the speaker showed that the psalm recorded the interest which the ancient Church of God took in public affairs, and especially in the safety of the nationality of the United States of Israel in her day of trouble," and after showing that patriotism and loyalty were prime virtues in the Christian code, the Colonel urged that every good citizen is under the highest obligations to aid our glorious Government in maintaining its rightful supremacy against its ungrateful, traitorous, paricidal and perjured public enemies, who had inaugurated open flagrant, deadly war—to compel us to submit to our national dismemberment and destruction, In stern and persistent opposition to all such it became us to say, in the language of the text, "In the name of God we will set up our banners."

The subject was then presented under the following heads of discourse:

FIRST—Our Banner is the banner of people justly proud of their paternity and history.

SECOND—It is the Banner of a people whose National domain affords the most magnificent home for man to be found on the footstool of Almighty God. * * * * *

THIRD—It is the Banner of a distinct Nationality and not a mere Confederation of States in a frail league, dissoluble at the caprice of mere party men at will.

It is an Arch of precious stones, resting on immortal and immovable abutments, and as changeless as the arch of the sky.

"'Tis a Union of lakes—a union of lands,
A union of souls none can sever!
A union of hearts—the union of hands,
And the Flag of our Union FOR EVER."

FOURTH—It is the Banner of Freedom! 1st, Personal: 2d, Intellectual; 3d, Religious: 4th, Civil; 5th, Political Freedom. The Colonel enlarged upon, proving and improving each of these points, and showing that "Our Banner" is the Star of Hope on earth's dark sky to the oppressed of our own and other lands.

FIFTH—It is the Banner of the Revolution of 1776, of 1812-15; the Banner that triumphed in Mexico; the Banner that is thrown to the battle and the breeze in Virginia and in Georgia, and wherever a public enemy hoists a hostile flag; the Flag of thrilling memories and of bright'ning hopes:

"Our Country's Flag, in lines of blood,
Forever telling, as it waves,
How side by side our Fathers stood,
And died to plant it on their graves."

* * * * * * * * *

SIXTH—It is the Banner that never has been and never shall be assaulted with impunity.

Patriotism and Piety, Truth, Justice, Humanity, God and Liberty, alike bid us

"Strike! till the last arm'd foe expires;
Strike! for our altars and our fires;
Strike! for the green graves of our sires—
God and our native land!"

* * * * * * * * *

SEVENTH. This is "our banner!" Ours by inheritance—ours by eminent right—ours by treasure—ours by blood—ours by avowal—ours in trust, for generations yet unborn,—and if we are the men for the hour and equal to the crisis, it will be "our banner" as a Nation

"Whilst earth bears a flower,
Or ocean rolls a wave."

* * * * * * * * *

EIGHTH, This banner was "got up in the name of our God"—by His authority—and has been kept up by His providence, and "in His name" we will keep it up, in spite of Jeff. Davis, Seymour, Woods, Valiandigham, Woodward, Sham Democracy, Rebeldom, or the Devil.

* * * * * * * * *

NINTH. The triumph of "our banner" will be "salvation of God" in which "we will rejoice."

This rejoicing is appropriate in view of the splendid victories of Mill Springs, Fort Donaldson, Island No. 10, New Orleans, Corinth, Iuka, Pittsburgh Landing, Stone River, Vicksburg, Chattanooga, Kenesaw, Atlanta, Knoxville, Fort Hudson, Gettysburg, Rapidan, Wilderness, Weldon Railroad, Winchester, Shenandoah Valley, and the numerous other fields,

"Where our glory was won."

On these fields God unfurled his banner because of "truth and righteousness in the earth."

"Whilst high in air and over all
Hung like a fog that murky pall,
Beneath whose gloom of dusky smoke
The cannon flam'd, the bombshell broke,
And the sharp rattling volley rang;
The shrapnell roared and bullets sang,
And fierce-eyed men, with panting breath,
Toiled onward at the work of death."

In view of these sacrifices of love, and treasure and blood, crowned with such signal success, shall we falter? Shall we forsake our brave soldiers in the front—allow the election of the sympathizers with our rebel foes, who would erect and maintain their dark banner of Slavery and aristocracy over two-thirds of our national domain? God forbid! Humanity, Liberty and Justice alike forbid it! Let my every hearer and voter forbid it.

Go, then, sovereigns of the land—of the ballot-box! go with your vote-scepter'd hand at the coming hour of destiny, and do your duty! Your vote is the token of inestimable privileges, and invokes the responsibility of an hereditary trust. It came into your hands as a right, reaped from fields of suffering and blood. As you cast your folded vote the grandeur of history is represented in your act. Men have wrought with pen and tongue, and pined in dungeons, and died on scaffolds, that you might have the right to vote and enjoy this consciousness of individual sovereignty by the grant of God, who made man "to have dominion," and appointed him His vicegerent upon earth. To the vote has been transmitted the dignity of the sceptre and the potency of the sword. Your folded vote becomes a tongue of justice—a voice of order—a force of imperial law—securing rights—abolishing abuses—and erecting new institutions of justice, truth, liberty, and "good will to men." It is an immeasureable power for good or evil, and a solemn and tremendous responsibility to your country, your kind and your God.

It is the medium—the battery through which you act upon the issues of the hour and the destiny of the great Republic.

"It is a weapon surer set,
And better than the bayonet;
A weapon that comes down as still
As snow-flakes fall upon the sod;
But executes a freeman's will
As lightning does the will of God."

Christian freemen and patriots! "the hour has come"—the hour and "power of darkness," let it be the hour of your fidelity, and "at even tide it shall be light," and we will rejoice in God's salvation."

Personal.

AT THEIR OLD TRICKS.—Old men and little boys, old women and young girls, being either too lazy to earn an honest living, or through a morbid mania for pilfering, are again—if they ever quit it—at their old practices of stealing pig metals, old iron, &c., and disposing of the same at the numerous junk shops throughout the city. This evil has assumed large proportions of late, and our business men have suffered heavily. The police have frequently attempted to break up this rascally business, but they have only met with partial success. After arrests and convictions in our courts, the business is abandoned for a time, but is gradually resumed, and becomes as bad as ever again. To-day officers Lowe and Culp, while passing along Water street, observed two men in the act of loading a large lot of pig metal scraps, amounting to perhaps a ton, which they had purchased from Patrick Murphy, residing near the Point. The lot had been sold for fourteen dollars, but is said to be worth fifty or sixty dollars. The three men were taken to the Mayor's office. The parties who had bought the metal are Germans, named Joseph Weismantel and Levi Wolff, who were held for a hearing on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Murphy was held to answer a hearing on a charge of larceny. Those interested are requested to call at the Mayor's office and examine the metal. The parties will have a hearing on Friday next.

ACTOR INJURED.—Edwin Adams, the tragedian, who performed in this city, at the theatre, week before last, met with a serious accident near Cincinnati on Saturday last. It appears Mr. Adams was taking a drive, in company with his wife, to Mill Creek, when the horses becoming unmanageable, ran away, throwing Mrs. Adams from the vehicle with great violence, whereupon Mr. Adams jumped from the carriage, receiving injuries of a severe nature.

RALLY SECOND WARD, ALLEGHENY.—The loyal men of the Second Ward, Allegheny, intend making a grand demonstrtion this evening, and will turn out in great numbers. Citizens residing in the lower end of the ward will form on Bagaley's Lane, and march to the school house, from which the delegation will proceed to take its place in the line of the grand procession. Every patriotic citizen is invited to turn out.

RALLY ONCE AGAIN.—The citizens of the Sixth Ward, who design taking part in the procession on Thursday evening, will be on hand at the engine lot, Wylie street, punctually at half past six o'clock, as arrangements have been made to join in with the delegations from the Seventh and Eighth Wards, so that all can come down together.

COL. CLARK'S REGIMENT.—The 163d Regiment, Col. J. B. Clark, one hundred days' men, left Baltimore yesterday morning, and will reach this city at noon to-day. What steps have been taken to give them an appropriate reception? Would it not be fitting they be assigned the right of the procession this evening? We merely make the suggestion.

GRANTING LICENSES.—The Court of Quarter Sessions met yesterday morning at nine o'clock, and were engaged granting licenses. Little else was done during the day.

CHEAP DRESS FOR GENTLEMEN.—Those who are fond of seeking facts on which to found disheartening generalizations, might easily find them, to all appearance, in the cheap dress of the day. Of course we are not alluding to the dress of the ladies. That has attained a degree of luxury which makes matrimony one of the largest financial undertakings in the market. We are speaking only of the humble dress of the male sex, which seems almost to have reached the verge of work-house shabbiness. While the ladies are flaunting in costumes which are denounced from the pulpits of unfashionable churches, the men have descended, step by step, through every degree of cheapness, until they have altogether deserted the old-fashioned five-guinea coat for suits which look passing well at half the money. They cannot be strictly said to have clothed themselves in sackcloth and ashes, but they certainly go as near the penetential style, in some of their tourist garments, as decency will allow. The days of "guid braid claith"—as Robert Ferguson, the poetical progenitor of Burns puts it—are as much things of the past as the days of hair powder, patches, and satin breeches. Materials which at one time would have been considered only fit for hearth-rugs now form the favorite walking dress in the most refined cities.—London News.

SPECIAL NOTICES

☞ FOR NEARLY A QUARTER of a century Matthews' Venetian Hair Dye has been extensively used, and in no case has it failed to give entire satisfaction.

The VENETIAN DYE is the best and cheapest in the world. Its price is only Fifty Cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process which renders it immeasurably superior to anything in the shape of a Dye now or ever before the people. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that DUSTY, DIRTY appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used: besides, it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that may be desired—one that will not fade, crack or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. For sale by Druggists. Price 50 cents.

FINANCIAL.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiply of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for those notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one quarter of one per cent.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVING BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

—In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent, per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury dotes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Up to the 24th of September, the subscriptions to this loan amounted to over $40,000,000.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the First National Bank of Pittsburgh, Pa.
Third National Bank of Pittsburgh, Pa.
Fourth National Bank of Pittsburgh, Pa.
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money.

And all Respectable Banks and Bankers throughout the country will give further information AND AFFORD FACILITIES TO SUBSCRIBERS.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital $500,000 paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officer and Directors.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.—The best Patent Artificial Leg in the United States, and the only one in Pittsburgh, is made by REICHENBACH,
No. 58 Fourth street, near Market street.

No other person in this city has a patent for Artificial Limbs. His Patent Leg resembles the natural limb in all its movements, as well as in appearance, and cannot be detected by an experienced eye. It met the approbation of the Army Board in Washington, January 12th, 1864, at which time a patent was granted the inventor. Parties in this city and elsewhere have attempted to imitate the patent, but have only produced worthless limbs.

Crutches can be dispensed with the first time the leg is worn. On horseback, it has the power and movements as when walking.

REICHENBACH also manufactures an ARTIFICIAL HAND, which is natural in appearance and movements, and when worn but a short time by those requiring them, are indispensable. je14-1y

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 2—P. M.

The appreciation in Gold has started upwards every class of values. It has completely checked up the downward tendency of prices that had previously prevailed, and the opinion in financial circles is that money will continue abundant and a high market will be maintained. In the event of the re-election of Mr. Lincoln, (which nobody now need doubt), the war policy will be firmly established, and assuming that the rebellion will not succumb ere the return of Spring, we may look for another half year of "high prices," and gold will keep up between one hundred and twenty to one hundred and sixty premium! This need not discourage any body, for the abundance of money will be commensurate with the advance of the markets.

—In our remarks yesterday morning there was a mistake in the quotation of Bank of Pittsburgh stock. It was quoted at $7 instead of $70.

—The oil stock market has been revived by the news of another "big strike." We announced, on Saturday morning, of the opening of a two hundred and fifty barrel well on the Hyde and Egbert farm on Oil Creek, about eight miles above Oil City. The news of the strike caused a heavy advance in the stocks of the Maple Shade and Egbert Oil Companies, which are principally interested in this new well. The stock of these companies is almost exclusively owned in Philadelphia. From Friday until Monday there were 9,000 shares of the Egbert stock sold in that city, averaging three thousand a day. A large number of the shares of the Maple Shade stock was also sold, but it being rather high priced, it was not so generally sought after. It advanced, however, on Tuesday, four dollars, and to-day ten dollars a share. The astounding news flashed from Oil City to Philadelphia that, on drawing the "sucker rods," the well flowed at the rate of fifteen hundred barrels per day, and to-day the telegraph further announces that the flow has increased to three thousand barrels. The Eldorado company also has struck a twenty-five barrel well on its territory at Horse Creek. Dalzell has suddenly bounded upwards to-day under favorable reports.

—In New York, according to the Commercial Advertiser, the speculative excitement on the stock market continues. The entire list was higher and the sales were larger than on any day since the excitement of last March Short sales are entirely abandoned, and nearly the whole market is buying for a rise. The influential clique that last week were operating for an advance, has taken the opportunity for unloading, but without at all checking the upward tendency. As yet comparatively few outside parties have been drawn into the movement, and the speculation is chiefly a brokers' speculation.

—The "bear" clique on gold are said to control $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 of gold. Their operation commenced this morning by throwing $1,000,000 of cash gold on the market. This effort, however, happened to come in the face of a large export demand, aided by strong "bull" operations, and the effect upon the market was scarcely appreciable. The prospect seems to be that the Gold Room will be the scene, for the next few days, of a grand political contest, the "bears" with their large resources, attempting to weaken the force of the financial argument against Mr. Lincoln's re-election, and the "bulls" as stubbornly struggling to keep up its supposed force.

—Money in New York is very abundant, and the last payment on account of the recent loan, has made no impression whatever on the market. Upon call the rate is 6@7 per cent. with an excessive supply. In commercial paper no change. Prime names are quoted 8 per cent., and second grade 9@12 per cent. The Bank statement shows an increase of $1,936,000 of deposits, $782,587 in loans, and $67,974 in specie. The items compare as follows:

	Oct. 22.	Oct. 22.
Loans	$185,738,764	186,521,251	Inc.	782,587
Specie	21,010,360	21,078,307	Inc.	67,974
Circulation	3,991,779	3,920,290	Dec.	71,489
Deposits	150,816,884	151,884,092	Inc.	1,066,208

—In Boston according to the Traveller, the money market presents no new features in regard to the supply of currency, or the demand for its use. Call loans on prime collaterals are freely obtained in the street at six per cent. The negotiations of mercantile paper are quite limited, outside the banks, but there is a larger business doing in certificates of indebtedness. There is a steady demand for United States securities, and a moderate inquiry for small lots of other dividend-paying investments. Copper mining stocks are more active, and some of the better sorts are quite scarce and firmly held, by parties who are not disposed to sell at the current quotations.

—The following National Banks were authorized by the Comptroller of the Currency during the week ending October 29. Most of them are conversions from State institutions:

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL OFFICE, }
Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1864.

Business was not very active. Buyers purchase sparingly to supply the wants of the local trade. The receipts of produce is on the increase. The weather for some days has been pleasant. We hope to see a continuance until after the Presidential election. Our rivers are falling with sufficient water for present purposes. On the Monongahela wharf we noticed a fair amount of activity. The mammoth steamer Commonwealth has attracted a good deal of attention. She was ready to depart last evening, but would wait until this morning, when she will take an early start for St. Louis. The Golden Era left for Portsmouth on time. She will make weekly trips hereafter. The Jonas Powell was detained making repairs. She will leave for Gallipolis this day. The Olive is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. She will have despatch. The Pine Grove is loading for Cincinnati and Louisville. She will leave this afternoon. The new Iron steamer Tamaulipas will leave for New Orleans direct on Saturday. Shippers will bear this in mind. The new steamer Champion is progressing rapidly. She is a real beauty and no mistake. The Allegheny river packets are doing a heavy business. The sales that came under our notice were as follows:

BACON—The market continues steady with a fair demand. The stock on hand is rapidly disappearing and will soon be among the things that were. Some of our large dealers have sold out their entire stocks, while others have certain portions left. Among the sales were: Shoulders, 2,700 lbs at 19½c; plain hams, 7,000 lbs at 20c; sides, clear, 2,500 lbs at 23c; for S C hams the market was bare. The season for old bacon will soon be over.

BUTTER—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article; all good parcels offered finds ready purchasers at the outside prices; sales of 2,500 lbs fresh roll at 38@40c per lb.

LARD—The market was steady with a fair demand. We note sales of 50 tcs at 23c.

DRIED BEEF—The market has become bare and there is no stocks to operate on at present.

OILS—Holders of Lard Oils are firm and prices have been steady for some time. We note sales of 18 bbls No 1 at $1 85, and 10 bbls do at $1 75 ₱ gallon.

FLOUR—The market was firm with a moderate demand, and holders generally were asking an advance. The receipts about keep pace with the demand. The rates for Extra were $9 75@10; extra Family $1 50@10 75@11; favorite brand was firm at the last named figures, and country lots sold at lower prices.

MESS PORK—The market has not been very active for some time past. Sales of 10 bbls at $41 50. The stock on hand is very limited.

SEEDS—Being altogether out of season there was nothing done and prices were nominal. Sales of Timothy at $6, from store; Clover, none in market. Correct prices were not to be obtained.

HAY—The receipts about keep pace with the demand. At the scales 14 loads were disposed of at $38@40 per ton. Baled was held at $37.

EGGS—The demand exceed the supply. Those parties who were fortunate enough to have any on hand were asking 28@29c per dozen.

GRAIN—The market was steady, with a good local demand. All good parcels of wheat found ready purchasers at full prices. Oats was unchanged, with sales of 800 barrels at 83@84c. Barley—Sales, Spring $1 60; Fall, $1 65. Rye nominal. Corn—The last lot disposed of was at $1 45 per bushel.

GROCERIES—The market was firm, but prices were too unsettled to give correct figures.

POTATOES—The receipts are increasing. Prices have an advanced tendency. Jersey Sweets sold at $4 50@5; Peach Blows, 80@90c per bush.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, }
Thursday, Nov. 3, 1864.

Business in the oil way was not very active. The heavy sales of the previous day occupied the attention of most dealers yesterday. Holders of Crude were holding out for an advance; buyers did not exhibit much anxiety to purchase with freedom. The rumor in regard to several large oil wells having been struck got currency during the day; this gave rise to the opinion that oil would necessarily decline. We saw a dispatch from Oil City giving the information that the Mapel Shade Oil Company had struck a 1,500 barrel well at half-past nine o'clock on Tuesday. The well is on the Egbert Farm, about eight miles from Oil City, on Oil Creek. The stock of this company is owned principally in the East. The dispatch was from a person who had no interest in the affairs of the company, and was an eye witness to what he telegraphed. The receipts of oil since our last by the Allegheny, foot up to 2,432 barrels. A few boat loads of bulk oil has arrived. The owners have not yet set their figures. The sales were small. Some dealers have shipped East. The Echo No. 3 left last evening for Oil City with one of the best trips that ever went up that stream. The Urilda, Le Claire and Petrolia were due last evening. Business in the vicinity of the Allegheny wharf was active. The market closed inactive. Buyers seemed inclined to hold off. The sales made were at an advance of about ½ cent. per gallon. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice.

CRUDE OIL—The market was firm in the early part of the day, and in the afternoon buyers held off. The decline in gold and the rumors in regard to new oil wells being struck caused buyers to hold off. The sales were 260 bbls at 30½c., packages returned; 200 bbls do, 30c., same conditions; 200 do, 30½c., bbls returned. Sales of 25 bbls at 35c., bbls included; 128 bbls do, same figures. A few small lots were disposed of at the range of prices.

REFINED OIL—Holders were firm at an advance. Bonded was held at 60c. for present delivery. We heard of no transactions.

FREE OIL—Has been neglected, and prices were nominal at 76c. ₱ gallon.

TAR AND NAPTHA—Were inactive and prices irregular.

FOR NEW ORLEANS DIRECT.—The new steamer Tamaulipas, will leave Pittsburgh for New Orleans direct, on the fifth of November.

THE fine passenger steamer Olive, Captain J. M. Andrews, is announced for Evansville, Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of experienced officers.

CAPT. B. F. Hutchison's new and splendid side-wheel steamer, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations and is in charge of careful and popular officers.

THE punctual passenger steamer Jonas Powell, Capt. Lee, being unavoidably detained, will leave this morning at 10 a. m. for Gallipolis and Portsmouth. This boat has good accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

WHEELING.

Wednesday's Intelligencer says:

There were eight feet water in the channel of the river yesterday and the water was falling very rapidly. There is nothing of particular interest to note about the landing.

We stated some days ago that the Captains of the four packets running between here and Sunfish, intended to play a game of seven up for the possession of the trade. This proposed mode of settling the right to the trade has been abandoned. Capt. Walton, of the Justice, declines to play. He says he has high, low and Jack and that he is now playing for the game.

CINCINNATI.

Tuesday's Commercial says:

The river is still receding slowly, with six feet hence to Louisville, and four feet in the Canal. The Lower Ohio is falling, with six feet from Portland to Cairo. There is twenty inches and falling in the Cumberland. There is thirty inches in the Kanawha, and falling. The Kentucky is falling, with 2½ feet from Oregon to the mouth.

The Wm. Butler and Guidon, from Pittsburgh; Cottage No. 2 from Marietta, and Robert Burns, from Memphis, were among the arrivals.

The Kate B. Porter, for Pittsburgh. Allen Collier, for Kanawha river, include the departures.

MISCELLANEOUS.—The J. R. Gilmore, which left here for Tennessee river, with a barge in tow, is coming back here to go on the ways for repairs, having met with an accident, the particulars of which we have not ascertained.

The Gazette says:

ARRIVED.—Siver Moon, from Memphis, with 434 bales of cotton; Lawrence, from Clarksville; Guidon, from Pittsburgh, with 235 tons of freight, including 60 tons for Louisville, reshiped on the Glide, and a fair trip of passengers; Glide No. 3, from Pittsburgh, with 266 tons of freight, including 80 tons for Louisville, and a large trip of passengers.

BOATS IN PORT.—The following boats were at the wharf last evening: Clara Poe, Robert Moore, Arizonia, J. D. Hinde, Colossus, Kate Robinson, Miami, Norman, Florence Miller, Kate B. Porter, Silver Spray, Abeona, Nightingale, Wm. Butler, C. T. Damont, Silver Moon, Lawrence, Guidon, Glide No. 3.

BOATS DUE.—Kate Putnam, from St. Louis 26th inst.; Wauanita, from St. Louis, 28th inst.; Bostona, from St. Louis, passed Cairo on the 28th inst., and Marmora, from White river.

The following steamers were advertised to leave Cincinnati for this port: Wm. Butler, Guidon, Ontario, and Bermuda.

SAINT LOUIS.

The Inspectors at St. Louis, as we learn by the Union, have suspended the licences of certain pilots in the Keokuk trade for attempting to play Captain and owner, as well as pilot. Their wages, sometimes as high as $900 per month, were enough for all the officers on the boats, and they wanted to wholly monopolize the business, and would not permit others to go on the boats to learn the river. The entire report is too long for our paper, but we subjoin the following extracts:

INTERESTING DECISION CONCERNING PILOTS.—The United States vs. James Collins, Charles Collins, Edward Metcalf, John Hamilton, Wm. Shoemaker, defendants.

Before the Local Board of United States Inspectors, October 26, 1864.

The defendants are all licensed pilots, and have been engaged as such on the Keokuk and St. Louis packet boats for some time past. Those boats are run as a daily line between St. Louis and Keokuk, engaged in carrying passengers, freight and the United States mail.

* * * * * * * * *

The pilot always has a lein upon the boat for his wages after he has earned them, and a court and jury will enforce the payment and determine what is a fair and reasonable compensation for the services rendered. We are of opinion that a refusal on the part of the owners of the Keokuk Packet Company, to put the persons off their boats whom the pilots objected to their carrying, and the refusal to pay the pilots $450 per month, were not sufficient reasons for refusing to act as pilots; and, if sufficient reasons did exist, the pilots were bound to give reasonable notice of their intention to quit, in order that others could be obtained without detention to the boats.

We, therefore, decide that the license of James Collins, Charles Collins, Edward Metcalf, and William Shoemaker be suspended for the term of thirty days, October 25th, 1864.

JOHN MAGUIRE,
JOHN SHAFFER.

Tuesday's Democrat says:

The small affair of a rise of three inches caused a sensation yesterday, it is so long a time since a previous similar occurrence. The rise occurred after six o'clock on Sunday evening.

The weather is very fine, and the nights are cool and frosty.

Business is dull, although there seems enough for the tonnage, only a dozen boats being in port yesterday.

There are four feet large to Cairo, three feet to Keokuk, three feet in the Missouri, and two feet in the Illinois.

The Mollie McPike, while coming down from Keokuk, ran upon a snag at the mouth of the Illinois, knocking an eight inch hole in her stern, through which some water entered her hold, and her rudder was unshipped. She arrived about four o'clock yesterday afternoon and immediately goes on the docks or ways for repairs.

The Maggie Hays a few minutes afterward struck the same snag, and broke her wheel, losing several buckets. The damage is not material.

Capt. Donaldson's Spray is receiving freight for Pittsburgh.

Among the boats due here are the Leonidas, Centralia and Roanoke.

The news of the loss of the immense St. Louis and New Orleans packet Empress, on the lower Mississippi, was received here with profound regret, for, although she is probably insured for a considerable sum, she was looked upon by those who have known her long as an old and faithful friend, and her officers, or a portion of them, are excellent and popular citizens of St. Louis. The Empress was to have been valued soon and to be received into the vast new packet line just established. The generous and whole-souled Tom Moore was clerk of her, and in her was perhaps most of his hard earnings. The Empress was built in 1861, cost $58,000, had been repaired and was worth easily $100,000. It was generally understood that her actual capacity was 2,000 tons. She was registered 967 tons, and carried with ease 2,000 troops.

EXTRAORDINARY SPEED.—The steamer Daniel Drew made the passage from New York to Albany on Friday last in the unprecedented time of six hours and thirty-five minutes, after deducting the time made for landing, having left New York at 8 o'clock and 9 minutes, arriving in Albany at 3 o'clock and 25 minutes, making her average speed 25 miles per hour. The steam she carried in performing this extraordinary feat would not average over 36 pounds. The Daniel Drew in 1860 made the passage between the aforesaid places in 6 hours and 50 minutes, which, it was then supposed, could not possibly be beaten. Since that time she has been lengthened, which has not only added to the comfort and convenience of passengers, but has also improved her speed, as will be seen by the time she made, having made the run eleven minutes sooner than she made the quick passage in 1860. The Danl. Drew and Chauncey Hibbard, two of the fastest steamers in the world, form the Day Line, leaving New York from the foot of Desbrosses street, every morning at 8 o'clock.

OHIO RIVER BRIDGE.

Notice is hereby given that on MONDAY, the 24th day of October, 1864, the Holliday's Cove Railroad Company will, under the authority of its charter from the Legislature of Virginia, and under the Act of Congress declaring the Railway bridge at Steubenville a lawful structure, commence the elevation of the channel span of said Bridge, and for this purpose, it will be necessary temporarily to obstruct the three hundred feet designed as a channel-way.

Attention of persons engaged in navigation, is called to the provision of the second section of the Act of Congress, "and the officers and crews of all vessels and boats navigating said river, are required to regulate the use of their said vessels and boats, and of any pipes or chimneys belonging thereto, so as not to interfere with the elevation construction and use of said bridge."

All persons are also notified that the span next west of the channel span is erected at an elevation of 66 feet above low water, and there is a water-way exceeding two hundred feet between the piers; and that the water-way between the piers next east of the channel span also exceeds two hundred feet, and that the headway here will be clear, as the company does not intend to proceed with the erection of this span until the channel span is completed and the obstruction necessary to its erection removed.

All persons are notified further that this bridge is erected without a draw, and that all the regulations of the Act of Congress have been complied with, by the company.

The erection of the channel span will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible, and due notice will be given as to the time when the obstructions will be removed.

Heavy Fall in Gold.

Special Dispatch to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, November 2.

The Stock market opened dull, became heavy and closed without recovery. Governments steady. Railroad Shares were pressed for sale. Prices have given way. At the close the leading Western Stocks exhibited signs of improvement. Bank Shares dull. Railroad Bonds neglected. In Coal Stocks Anthracite was quiet and bituminous lower. Before Board the market was feverish and irregular, and very little business was done. Gold experienced a heavy fall. The parties engaged in the bull movement sold out, while many bears suffered heavy losses. No sufficient cause has yet been assigned for the collapse outside of the usual street influence. Price opened at 246, closing at 229¾. The fall was steady, except with a spasmodic start upwards. The break down in gold speculation, while it depressed business at the stock exchange, checked further spasmodic upward movements of fancy stocks, and caused a general decline in all kinds of securities, except Governments. There was a little tightening of the money market, but nothing like stringency. The National Banks are called upon by Government for a large amount of their treasury deposits—report says $8,000,000. They have consequently called in a considerable amount of loans. The rate of loans is 7 per cent., as usual. From various causes there has been more changing of loans than usual. At the Mining Board there was considerable activity in gold. Stocks without marked improvement of prices. Rates of foreign exchange nominal, as usual on Wednesday.
